History

Kamo Christian College began life as a private school in April 1980 to support the Christian beliefs of parents who attended Alive Church. Thirty five 5 to 14 year old children of the church families formed the first student body of the school. The church bought a seven acre motor camp and used the camp lounge and one unit as the first two classrooms. Offices for the students to work in had to be built, and monitors were needed to help in the running of the programme. The parents and members of the church pitched in. When the church building was built it became the main classroom. By 1987 there were about 80 students from new entrants to form five.

Kamo Christian College became a centre for the ACE movement in Northland. People came there for ACE training and experience. Teachers gathered annually for training and PD conferences. Students also gathered annually for sporting and cultural competitions called 'student conventions.' The tearooms on the site were sold and an additional 11 acres at the back of the property were bought, that became playing fields.

By 1991 the roll had increased to 140 and classes went all the way to form 7. In 1991 the Kamo Christian Teachers' College was established and thus trained teachers on site. Many Kamo Teachers' College graduates completed their official qualification with MASTERS Institute in the mid-90s.

In order to reduce costs for families the College integrated as a Special Character Area School in October 1996. Along with integration came the much needed finance to build purpose built school buildings. In 1999 a new two story building which included a staff room, conference centre, classrooms and a gymnasium which doubled as an assembly hall was completed.

In the late 1990s Power Com was established and hosted by Kamo Christian College. This was a convention of Christian school students at which various performing arts and sports competitions were held. Schools from all over the North Island participated. Typically there were over 200 students in attendance.

In 2003, Marsden Christian School became a satellite of Kamo Christian College. This enabled the Marsden families to benefit from integration.

Five classrooms were added to the gymnasium building in 2004. Contractors, church members, school staff, and sometimes students, teamed together, and completed the addition early 2005. In addition the school bought the Marsden Oil Refinery Social Club rooms to bring onto the property. In time this has been modified to become the school office, staff room and teaching spaces.

In 2006 the Marsden Christian School campus closed and the students moved to Kamo Christian College.

In 2008, it was decided to change the name to Excellere College. This required a new Integration agreement under the name Excellere College. For about a decade the roll has typically been just under 200.

From 2015 NZ Christian Proprietors Trust (NZCPT) are the new proprietors, with Whangarei Christian Education Trust (WCET) as the Land Trust. The roll cap was increased to 230 for 2018, and to 300 in 2019.

Integration has meant that the College has continued to grow, while offering greater options in the Senior College. NCEA courses are now embedded, without compromising the Christian world-view.

Location and Facilities

Excellere College is situated at Springs Flat, just north of Kamo, in Whangarei. Set in 10ha of natural grounds and playing fields. The college has a large gymnasium, surrounded by learning spaces. The Whare provides more learning spaces, the office and staff facilities. The college also has two adventure playgrounds for both junior and senior students. New learning spaces were added in 2019, for Music, Science and Art, and Maths and English in 2020.

Further video-conferencing facilities, enables online learning as an option for students.

Special Character

The Special Character of the School is determined by the Christian beliefs, values and lifestyle of the Christian Church as determined from time to time by the Whangarei Christian Education Trust, and is to be upheld in word and fulfilled in practice by staff.

Because God is

The Creator of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible, sustaining and ruling over creation including man ...

And is the source of all wisdom and knowledge.

God the Father, Jesus his Son and the Holy Spirit are relevant to every area of study and endeavour in the school.

The School reflects this by:

- a) Experiencing Godly relationships, showing the character of Christ in love, using the Bible as the basis for exploring God's world, and as a standard against which to compare and interpret all curriculum material.
- b) Teaching Christian values and behaviour through the process of acknowledgement of sin, repentance and acceptance of Jesus' gift of grace.
- c) Using prayer as a key tool in learning, inviting the Holy Spirit into every learning situation.
- d) Encouraging each child to give their best because God creates and equips each person for their unique role in His service, and acknowledging achievement in accordance with the child's effort.
- e) Inextricably integrating knowledge of the world and Christian beliefs, through an integrated approach of an appropriate Christian curriculum and developed programme plans.
- f) Acting as a continuum and extension of the teaching provided in Christian homes.
- g) Providing an environment where children, parents and teachers can experience godly relationships, show the character of Christ in love, discipline, respect, honour and trust, and witness an exemplary demonstration of Biblical truths in the lives of others.
- h) Employing staff who are role models for students, who promote values and standards based on Biblical principles.

These are expressed through our core values.
